

Hiring: Full Time Thrower & Ceramics All- Rounder

elph ceramics is a luxury homewares brand created by sisters, Eloise & Sophie Rankine. Our range is a timeless collection of high quality Australian handcrafted ceramic homewares designed and manufactured in the Southern Highlands of NSW.

elph ceramics is growing and we have the exciting opportunity to hire a full-time ceramics professional to work with us at our beautiful Southern Highlands studio.

We're looking for a passionate and skilled thrower to manufacture vases, dinnerware and serving pieces. This role will also include other studio tasks such as glazing, clay reclaim using a pug-mill and packing kilns.

A successful candidate:

- has keen attention to detail
- is passionate about ceramics, keen to learn more and constantly improve their skills
- has a wide knowledge of ceramic techniques with a special interest and skill in throwing
- is looking to build a career with a fast-growing Australian design house
- is hard working and task oriented

Preferred experience:

- tertiary degree in ceramics or ceramic design (or equivalent)
- mastery of the basics of throwing and turning
- is familiar with clay reclaim, glazing and kiln packing
- Must have own car as the studio is not accessible by public transport.

Hours per week: 38

Salary: $55000-$65000 (incl. super) depending on experience

Please apply with a cover letter and resume via hello@elphceramics.com.
